Need a nice web page? Go to Immortal Realm Design
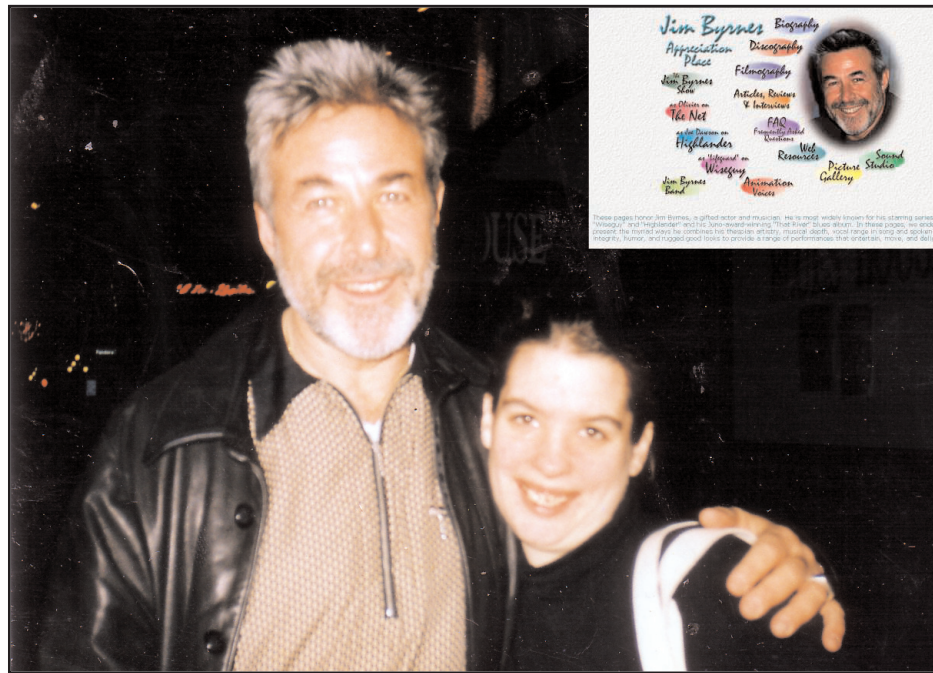

BY JENNIFER THRAILKILL-LEONARD

The Immortal Realm Design, is now open in Ridgecrest to offer the Indian Wells Valley solutions to all your Web design, graphic design, computer repair, computer programming, and desktop publishing needs!

Owner Jennifer Thrailkill-Leonard, who handles things from the design end, can sit down with you and help you come up with a unique design to make your logo, Web site, business card, etc., standout and get noticed.

Immortal Realm Design also offers custom artwork and logos, photo manipulation, advertisements, newsletters, flyers, brochures, and custom fonts. With instant access to thousands of images and fonts and use of software from leading companies such as Adobe, Macromedia, JASC Software, Microsoft, and Quark, they aim to make your project the best it can be.

The Immortal Realm Design started freelance designing and programming in the late 1990s, and have worked on projects for realtors, photography studios, charities, and entertainment sites for people in California, North Carolina,

Jennifer with actor/musician Jim Byrnes in Vancouver, BC in 1997. Jennifer was a design consultant on one of his official web sites, The Jim Byrnes Appreciation Page (upper right corner)

Alabama, and British Columbia.

Web design clients can receive assistant from in helping you choose the right Web hosting company to domain registration, from designing and creating to maintaining or teaching how to do it themselves. Graphic design and desktop publishing clients will find ways to make projects stand out and pop off the page and get noticed.

For those who are in need of computer repairs, such as installing hardware, software, reformatting hard drives, troubleshooting, etc, they can contact Jennifer's husband Tom, who handles repair and programming.
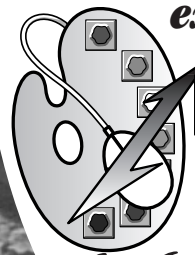

Jennifer, who is a production designer for The Daily Independent, has an associate in science degree in Internet technology, specializing in Web design and multimedia from Foothill College, Los Altos. Tom, a freelance computer programmer, has a bachelors of science degree in computer science from North Carolina State University in Raleigh.

Interested inquiries can be e-mailed to: webmaster@the-immortal-realm.com, or visit the Web site at www.the-immortal-realm.com. For more information, call (760) 793-7976 (anytime) or (760) 371-7813 (evenings and weekends). Hours of operation are Sunday and Monday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Tuesday through Friday from 3 to 7 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. After hour appointments are available upon request.